

FUN! FROLIC! HARVESTERS' BALL AT IRMA, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 8

Plans Made For Community Banquet

It is planned to hold a community banquet at IOOF hall, Wainwright, Friday, October 15, at 7:00 p.m., to recognize the wide contribution of helpful effort given to the people of this community and to Alberta generally of Henry Spencer, Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. Sanders.

The banquet is sponsored by local individuals, who request the active co-operation of each organization to which these people belong or have belonged.

We need 75-100 guests (catering arranged for based on this number that can be increased if interest demands) and suggest that each organization be represented officially by one or more members.

We must know quickly:

1. The number of seats you will require (remit $1.50 for each seat for cost of banquet).

2. The names of your delegates or representatives.

3. The name of any friend or part interested in attending also. (Make up a carload from your district.)

4. Any suggestion as to program and any volunteers for entertainment.

As a parting memory let us all join in wholeheartedly in this gathering of friends and fellow-workers to show our appreciation for the work of these fine people.

KEN S. TORY, Secretary, Wainwright.

The National Film Board

THE WORK OF THE NATIONAL FILM BOARD is known to most Canadians, who have seen documentary and educational films produced by this organization. These pictures have contributed extensively toward the spreading of education and culture in Canada and have played an important part in familiarizing people with the beauties of the country as well as with its cultural and industrial progress. While such pictures are seen by many Canadians each year, it is perhaps not generally known that pictures made by the National Film Board also reach large audiences outside of Canada, and do much not only to acquaint people of other countries with the Dominion, but play an important part in advertising Canadian products abroad and increasing foreign trade.

Show Products Canada Sells

It is estimated that 70,000,000 people in 60 countries each year see films made by the National Film Board, showing products which Canada has to sell. These films are made in co-operation with various government departments and with industries, and have proved to be of great value in advertising Canadian products abroad. Such films as "The Canadian Wheat Story", "Tomorrow's Timber" and "The Fur Trade" have advertised the products of these primary Canadian industries to people of many countries, as have "Red Runs the River" which tells of salmon fishing in British Columbia and "Fashions by Canada" which brought many orders for clothes made in Canada. These films not only help to sell Canadian goods, but they attract people from other countries to come here as tourists and as permanent settlers.

Great Progress Made in Britain

The documentary film is a branch of motion picture production which has wide appeal and which has assumed importance in recording the cultural, social and industrial progress of a nation and the benefit of its own people as well as those of other countries. Reality and honesty are essential features of such films and a high degree of skill and experience are required to make them successfully. Since the war, Britain has made notable progress in this field and credit is given to producers there for contributing a great deal to this branch of film production. The work of Canada's National Film Board likewise conforms to high standards and is instrumental in building up a broader and more authentic knowledge of Canada and the Canadian way of life both here and in the many foreign countries to which Canadian films are sent.

Farmers' Cash Income Advance

OTTAWA.—Farmers' cash income from the sale of their produce advanced steadily to a total of $874,212,000 in the first half of 1948 from $732,704,000 in the corresponding period last year and $620,193,000 in 1946, the Bureau of Statistics reports.

Adding in the supplementary cash payments under the Prairie Farm Assistance Act, the Wheat Acreage Reduction Act, and the Prairie Farm Income Act, the total cash receipts for the first half of this year were $989,572,000 against $742,626,000 in 1947 and $636,244,000 in 1946.

A large share of the increase was attributed to substantial sums paid out in western Canada by the Canadian Wheat, Board in connection with adjusting participation and final equalization payments on wheat, flaxseed and oats.

HUMAN BEINGS COULD USE THIS HANDY EYE

According to the Calgary Albertan a museum expedition has brought back from Africa a fly whose eyes are placed at the ends of long stalks that flare sharply to the right and left. They permit the insect to stand still and see around corners.

Life on our planet might be a good deal safer and happier if nature had seen fit to graft stalk eyes on homo sapiens instead of a member of the muscidae family. Think what a boon such an optical arrangement would have been for pedestrians, motorists and diplomats.

A GOOD SUBSTITUTE

IPSWICH, England.—A furniture company has set up a carrier-pigeon service between its branch here and London head office because of delay in getting a telephone installed. They have 70 birds. Each takes about 1½ hours to get a message through.

Canada has an area of 3,695,189 square miles.

YOU WOMEN WHO SUFFER HOT FLASHES then FEEL CHILLY—

Here's Good News!

Are you between the ages of 38 and 58 and going through that trying functional "middle-age" period peculiar to women? Do you feel "after" from hot flashes, feel clumsy, so nervous, irritable, weak? Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such unpleasant "it's funny" feelings. Many wise "middle-age" women take Pinkham's Compound regularly to help build up resistance against this distress. Pinkham's Compound contains no opiate—no habit-forming drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's VEGETABLE COMPOUND

It helps nature (you know what we mean). This great medicine also has "built up" resistance against this distress.

NOTES: Do you see under LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S name? With added time.

Forecast 1948 Wheat Crop At 391,000,000 Bu.

OTTAWA.—A 1948 wheat crop of 391,000,000 bushels—more than 50,000,000 bushels over the harvest of 1947—has been forecast by the Bureau of Statistics.

The forecast was made in the bureau's second estimate of Canada's field crops. The first estimate, made Aug. 17, placed the wheat crop at 372,000,000 and the bureau attributed the larger prospects to exceptionally good maturing and harvest weather during August.

The wheat estimate includes 362,661,000 bushels of spring wheat, produced mainly on the three prairie provinces, and 28,331,000 bushels of winter wheat which comes mostly from Ontario.

The enhanced crop prospects, which mean more money in the pockets of Canadian farmers, included estimates that the oats crop would total 361,728,000 bushels compared with 282,714,000 last year, barley 357,123,000 bushels against 141,451,000, rye 26,608,000 against 13,217,000 and flaxseed 17,748,000 against 12,240,800.

The estimate rye crop included 20,651,000 bushels of fall rye and 6,957,000 from spring production.

Production of the five leading grains on the prairies follows, with 1947 totals in brackets:

Three provinces—wheat 358,000,000 (319,000,000); oats 225,000,000 (194,000,000); barley 144,000,000 (131,000,000); rye 23,608,000 (11,630,000); flaxseed 17,000,000 (11,550,000).

Average yields per acre, in bushels, are estimated as follows with the 1947 figures in brackets: Wheat 16.2 (14.0); oats 32.3 (25.2); barley 24.2 (18.9); rye 12.7 (11.4); dry peas 19.9 (14.0); dry beans 18.7 (15.0); soy beans 21.0 (18.2); buckwheat 23.1 (17.9); mixed grains 40.6 (30.4); flaxseed 9.2 (7.8); shelled corn 51.0 (37.9).

BEAVER NOT IMPRESSED WITH MANITOBA CAPITAL

RATHWELL, Man.—A distinguished visitor from southern Manitoba has paid a visit to the capital of the province—and as far as can be ascertained he was not impressed.

He wore a brown coat, a tired expression, and took a jaunt view of Winnipeg. He was "A1064", one of the largest beaver ever caught in southern Manitoba.

The beaver is about five feet long, weighs 75 pounds and is as powerful as a man. "A1064" is about 10 years old, a respectable age in any beaver colony.

He was caught south of here on the Boyne River by Douglas Ferris, a game guardian. Beaver are becoming a nuisance in the south of the province. The game and fisheries branch is caging them and shipping them north where they will increase.

CIGARETTE SMOKING ON THE INCREASE IN CANADA

OTTAWA.—Despite high costs, cigarette smoking appears to be increasing in Canada.

The Bureau of Statistics reported that in the first seven months of the year 8,785,000,000 cigarettes were released, compared with 8,323,000,000 in the corresponding period of 1947.

Two-Mile-Long Tunnel Completed

KIMBERLEY, B.C.—A two-mile-long tunnel under a Kootenay mountain—an important step in the ore-transport system of Sullivan Mine—has been completed after two years of work.

The new tunnel allows ore cars to load in the mine and travel direct to the Sullivan concentrator. It eliminates an expensive trans-shipping procedure through Kimberley city in Canadian Pacific cars. The tunnel was built by Northern Construction Company, and is a major part of the $2,500,000 low-level haulage project of the consolidated Mining and Smelting Company Ltd.

PIGS AND MORE PIGS

WASHINGTON.—The United States government has asked farmers to produce the largest peacetime spring pig crop on record.

The 1949 spring goal was set by the agriculture department at 60,000,000 pigs—an increase of 17 per cent, or nearly 9,000,000 more than the 1948 crop.

About 20 per cent. of the population of the Republic of Salvador, Central America is Indian.

Notes For Mothers Packing Lunches For School Children

MANY school children find it impossible to get home in the daily luncheon period and, therefore, must take their lunch to school, and for uncounted years school lunches have been a problem to many mothers.

Once a year, Health News Magazine offers mothers advice about school lunches and we with them present the ideas of the Nutrition Division of the Saskatchewan Department of Public Health on the subject. The Saskatchewan department deals with the subject in an attractive four-page pamphlet—"Notes for Lunch-Packing Mothers". Here they are—

The Lunch Plan

What kind?—Metal is the best because it must be washed and scalded regularly. There should be air holes for ventilation. And, don't forget a handle! It makes it much easier to carry.

How To Pack

Line with wax paper or serviette. Wrap each food separately. Put heavier foods on the bottom—foods easily-crushed on the top.

A Good Lunch

What's that?—One that contains enough food and the right kind. Milk—for bones and teeth. A vegetable or a fruit—both if possible. Bread—whole grain or Canada Approved. Protein—such as meat, fish, cheese, eggs or peanut butter. Hot food—cocoa, soups, scalloped dishes.

The Jar Method

Each child carries a jar of food from home in his lunch kit. These jars can be reheated at school in a large kettle of hot water—a canner serves the purpose very well. It is necessary to have a rack in the bottom to keep the jars off the direct heat. This may be made of wire, or it may be just a piece of board about three-quarters of an inch thick. Holes bored in it will allow the water, as it heats, to come up around the jars. If put on the stove to heat at recess the food will be piping hot by noon. Then each child eats his food from his jar and takes it home to be washed, and refilled for tomorrow.

Equipment

A large kettle, canner, or a boiler with a rack.

Even mitts or potholders for lifting out hot jars.

(Ed's Note: The above method probably applies to schools in rural areas, and not to city schools where stoves—other than in cafeterias—are not available because of central heating systems. However, many thousands of rural children take lunches to school and this method is certainly applicable to them.)

What Foods For The Jar?

Here's the answer—Baked beans, milk pudding, shepherd's pie, vegetable stew, creamed chicken, vegetable chowder, spaghetti and meat with tomatoes, macaroni and cheese or tomatoes, creamed carrots or other vegetables, scalloped potatoes or other vegetables, liver or salmon loaf, creamed eggs, soup, cocoa with milk.

Luscious Lunches

Vegetable milk soup, crackers peanut butter on whole wheat bread, oatmeal cookie, apple. Recess snack—bran muffin, milk. Recess snack—apple.

Meat loaf sandwich on rye bread, carrot strips, rice and raisin pudding, bran muffin, milk. Recess snack—apple.

Macaroni and cheese, brown bread and butter, turnip strips, raisin, biscuit, banana, milk. Recess snack—cookie.

Tomato soup, cheese on whole wheat bread, cabbage salad, cup cake, orange. Recess snack—cinnamon bun.

Sandwich Suggestions

Peanut butter and crisp bacon. Minced meat and grated carrot. Ground liver and pickle. Cheese and tomato.

Lettuces and cucumber. Cheese and chopped nuts.

Peanut butter and celery. Scrambled eggs with bacon.

Cottage cheese and marmalade. Flaked fish and salad dressing.

Grated cheese, raw carrots and salad dressing.

The Lady and the Mouse

By Lila Lennon

TESS had a problem. And when you take to discussing your problems with a small, friendly grey mouse ... it's time for action.

The mouse's name was Roger, and he was a mighty visitor in the Blair kitchen. The first time he and Tess met, they stared at each other a moment, and when Tess said "Hi!" and tossed him a nibble of cheese, he decided it was safe to stay. Each night thereafter, but only when Tess was alone, he came out for his cheese.

Tess sat dejectedly on a tall kitchen stool, polishing off a sandwich and a glass of cold milk. "You see Roger," she addressed the mouse in the corner, "it's this way. I'm in love with Jeff. I have been, ever since we were kids."

Her tone was wistful, and it was no trouble at all to picture Jeff Davis. Tall and clean-limbed, eyes that crinkled at the corners when he laughed ... a shaggy, curly red hair ... Tess continued plaintively, and Roger twitched his nose understandingly.

"The trouble is, Jeff just doesn't see me as a desirable woman. I'm the hey-hey kid, and a swell pal. I can swim and sail a boat. I can ride horse-back and ski. I can bowl ... I can do all the things he does, and just as well, because he's spent years teaching me how."

"Pal," she said disgustedly. "If he calls me that just once more, I'll bark like a dog!"

Roger made a tiny squeaking sound. "What's that? Oh, yes, he'd give me the shirt off his back, but I don't want it ... unless his arms are in it, and around me!"

Roger made a careful circuit of the kitchen and came back to nibble. Tess sighed. "What can I do, Roger? I've tried. The night I wrote that seductive letter to him, he asked me if I was serious. I told him my hair up on my head, he told me to stop playing grown-up. And when I tried that new perfume, he wrinkled his nose and said, 'What's that, bilge water?'"

"She waved the empty glass dramatically. 'See what I mean? It's a very discouraging, being in love with a guy who used to watch your mother change your diapers!'"

Tess continued mournfully. "Here I am, twenty, and developing a neat frustration complex. I'm positively haunted by a dream ... I've had it for years and years!"

Tess hugged her knees. The same old man, with variations of course. But the moment always came when Jeff held her close and whispered, "Darling ... I adore you!" Or Jeff, his voice rough with demanding desire ...

"You're mine ... mine!"

Cold fingers tapped her spine, and Tess shivered. Roger twitched his tail sympathetically, but went right on eating. Tess eyed him. "You don't care at all do you?" she accused.

Roger trembled with dignity. "I'm really worried," she continued slowly. "Especially since that chic five-foot piece of fluff, Ivy, came to town. She's little and cute and clings. She bats her eyes at Jeff and makes his so-o-o big and strong!"

And Jeff, the goon, positively drools! Tess snorted, and Roger jumped. "I'll bet she'd even be afraid of you, Roger. She'd scream and cling herself to Jeff's arms!"

Roger stared at her unblinkingly, and Tess stared back. "Roger!" she exclaimed.

"The idea held her entranced, and Roger nodded his head gravely.

"You'll have to help," she admonished. "You never come out when anyone's here, but tomorrow night I'll lure Jeff in for a late snack."

She shook her finger at Roger. "See that you put in an appearance, hear?"

Roger flicked his tail and stalked his hole. Tess clicked off the kitchen light and went to bed, but her dreams were persistent. Jeff, holding her tenderly in his arms ... Jeff, murmuring, "Darling ... I adore you."

Luring Jeff to the kitchen was a simple matter. It merely meant dangling a baked ham sandwich under his nose. Jeff agreed it was a good night for baked ham. Tess put on a beguilingly-buffed apron and pattered slowly, keeping an eye out for Roger. He was late, the ungrateful wretch!

"Hurry up, woman, I'm starved!" Jeff pounded the table and Tess groaned inwardly. Roger would never show up with all this noise!

At that moment Roger busily exhibited twitching nose. Tess let out a screech and clambered to a chair.

Jeff stared. "What's eating you?" he demanded.

Tess pointed at the quivering Roger. "A mouse!" she wailed. "Oh, Jeff, get him!"

Jeff's mouth fell open and he followed her finger. It was a brilliant lunge, but Roger whirled into the pantry.

"Missed him," Jeff muttered and turned to Tess. "She's about half above him, holding her skirt around her."

"Are you going to stand up there all night?" he demanded.

"Do you think he'll be back?" Jeff grunted. "After that screech of yours?" He looked up at her. "Imagine, you're afraid of mice!" Here, get down."

He held out his arms and Tess climbed straight into them. She flung both her arms around his neck and hung on. Jeff slowly closed his arms around her.

Tess looked at him a long moment, and her lips were very close. "Jeff had a hypnotized expression on his face. He couldn't help it, he kissed her. For several seconds, the world whirled delightfully.

"Well," Jeff said at last.

"Tessie, all grown up! I've been waiting for this day, dope. It's about time!"

Tess grinned. The words were different from the dream, but the scene was the same. That's all that counted.

"Roger!" she said softly.

Curb Joy-Riding In Official Cars

VICTORIA, B.C.—The British Columbia Government has cracked down on joy-riding in government cars.

After a checking indicated many such vehicles were being used by civil servants for pleasure driving, the province equipped all cars in its fleet with special red and white license plates, which will make them easily recognizable if driven after business hours.

If this step does not bring results, the province is considering keeping all its cars in a central pool, from which they may only be loaned for specified trips.

Prairie Farmers Use Latest Machines To Bring In Their Crops

Last word in harvesting efficiency is the "pusher" or self-propelled combine, capable of covering 50 acres in an ordinary working day. Equipped with powerful headlights, these monsters are rearing around prairie fields day and night on the Regina, Sask., plains area, to take off a crop that will yield, in some places, 30 bushels to the acre. The combine has ended the need for harvest excursions from Eastern Canada, since one man on a combine is able to replace a whole threshing crew. The machine shown at bottom was one of the earlier types of harvester combines, tractor-drawn, and capable of doing almost as much work in 10 days as a threshing crew of ten men. The outfit is straight combining a crop of oats. Unevenly-ripened fields are usually "swathed" and the swath picked up after a week or more of curing and ripening.—Central Press Canadian.

Plump, Better Turkeys Aim Of Inspectors

WINNIPEG.—The main course of your Christmas dinner is about to get a careful scrutiny out in these parts.

Several thousand turkeys scattered around the prairie provinces—their life expectancy only a couple of months—are to undergo government inspection. The object: To provide plump birds with straight drumsticks and well-shaped wishbones for Canadian tables come Dec. 25.

Manitoba, along with Saskatchewan and Alberta, this month will commence its annual inspection of turkey flocks—a voluntary procedure designed to improve the province's methods of breeding, feeding, disease control and management.

Birds to be government-approved—and what bird would want to be otherwise—must be purchased stock. The flock must be free from evidence of disease or parasites and must show "a strong constitutional vigor."

The gobblers you'll see with relish on Christmas Day lived in "a well-designed and constructed house." A home which had to be kept clean and disinfected.

Even the turkey's love-life had to be up to government standards: Approved females were mated only with "AAA," "AA," or "A" grade males.

"The inspections last for about a month. Last year 5,000 birds were inspected in Manitoba alone.

The government supervision has made for a better type of bird, agriculture officials say.

"A few years ago turkeys were thin and rangy. Now it's a heavier, more plump and thoroughly improved bird."

Pass the gravy, please.

GOOD BULB COUNTRY

VANCOUVER.—The soil and climate of British Columbia appear to offer exceptional possibilities for an expanding bulb industry.

INDIANS UNDERGO CHANGE OF HEART

CHURCHILL, Man.—Indians of the North River Reservation may have undergone a change of heart.

In July, they would have nothing to do with a visiting Treaty Party, complaining that they wanted the Government to provide a new uniform for their chief. The Indians would not accept their annual treaty money and shunned the party.

But a Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer who visited the reservation recently to bring out a sick Indian reported he received a friendly reception. The Chief shook his hand and expressed the hope of seeing him next summer.

Officials hope it means the tribe will soon be ready to "smoke the peace pipe over the treaty money."

Natural Gas Wells Located In Peace River District

VANCOUVER.—Natural gas wells in the Peace River block on both the British Columbia and Alberta side of the boundary have been located by a Vancouver firm which is contemplating construction of a gas pipe line to the coast.

Latest find is on the Alberta side, where a well which was drilled by Pacific Petroleum Company of Vancouver about 20 miles northeast of Dawson Creek, is reported to have returned a flow of nearly 20,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Norman R. Whittall, a member of the group which formed the Peace River Natural Gas Co. Ltd., and a director of Pacific Petroleum, reports that his firm has found gas in several wells in B.C.

One of the wells, near Rolla, B.C., shows very favorable results, he said.

Drillers are following a trend in the district and although showings are good it might be some time yet before a field large enough to supply Vancouver with natural gas might be found.

Gas from Alberta wells is still under control of that province and no indication has been given yet if export will be allowed.

The Peace River company intends to build a line through B.C. to the coast to bring gas here.

The principal families of plants are distributed world-wide.

WINNIPEG.—Arthur Neimans, a farmer from Rosendal, Man., has welcomed five displaced persons to his home—a young married couple with three children. "I've never seen them before, but we have lots of room and there's lots of work for people who want to work," he said.

THANKSGIVING

We have much to be thankful for. Although our harvest was light, the grade is good and the prices are good, and we are thankful for still being at peace. Let's all keep hoping for World Conditions to improve.

A few timely suggestions, before it becomes really cold. Check your pumps and cylinders, replace worn leathers, true up the poppets and grind the valve seats. Have a few rod and pipe couplings on hand.

There will be fuel oil this winter and a limited number of oil heaters. We have the famous "COLEMAN" in different sizes, let us explain the benefits of these space heaters to you.

Now is a good time to get your weather strip. Try our rubber covered cotton core strip. It's durable. Bring in your sash and storm windows to be glazed early and avoid delay.
